

These are screen shots from the clothes wholesaler. They are a great deal older than I thought, from around 2001 and were written in Access97. There was a later Access2000 version but I cannot find it. I've upgraded the BE database to .accdb and left data in the tables. These are some screen shots that I've taken, that may be helpful. Any data in the tables is my test data.

As I recall stock arrived from abroad from their own manufacturer. The goods were contained on spreadsheets that the system imported. Any new stock codes were automatically added into this system during Excel import.

That's about it folks. As I say there was a later version in Access2000 with additional features and tables. Including invoicing etc. But I am unable to locate it. As you are working in the business all of this will probably mean more to you than it does to me now, as it's around 20 years ago.

Hopefully the database will help along with these screen shots.
